“Janine leads the workshop with a brilliant balance between instructing, inspiring, assisting and letting the creativity flow. I think all participants gained a lot of valuable insights and became committed to explore new routes. Thank you Janine for helping us to unearth buried and hidden crossroads.” (Jürg)

“Janine managed to create a group with an incredible energy (...) her awareness and openness to what wanted to happen and to be created, allowed her to guide every one of us in her/his own way. After calming my mind and opening my heart, answers to inner questions, I wasn't even aware of, appeared. BIG Thank you to Janine.” (Diana)

What is the akashic field or the Akasha?

The Akasha is an ancient pure energetic source of love, wisdom, healing and possibility from which everything emerges. It exists as an intelligent invisible field of informations, beyond space and time which has existed since the beginning of time – or even perhaps before any of humanity's concept of time.

Akasha is the Sanskrit word for sky, space or aether, some would consider it to be the 5th element.

What is the role of the dolphins in this arrangement?

The dolphins bring their highly aligned and deep rooted wisdom through their spirit-energy into the field to gain more clarity about what is important for you right now and to activate energies of joy and flow to get you back on your soul's path without struggles but with much more ease.

Why doing this online Course?

Because you are deeply longing for clarity and for ending your running against walls and into the same situations again and again, which lets you feel disempowered and stuck and tired. You want to bring unique purpose in your life and to be what you came here for with your unique contribution to the beauty of our world.

As you are guided through the 5 weeks Akashic dolphin healing mentorship program, channels of your intuition will be opened, you can expect breakthroughs and insights throughout the whole journey, as well as a feeling of lightness and clarity you were longing for for such a long time.

Thank you for the courage to unravel the healing and alchemising beauty of your core through being open to the wisdom of the akashic field, transported by dolphin spirit.
